A Weekly Newspaper Devoted to Furthering the Civic and Rural Interests of the Whole of Washington Township

51 YEARS OLD — NILES, CALIFORNIA FRIDAY, JULY 7, 1939 — No. 27

AROUND the TOWNSHIP

Thanksgiving doesn't arrive until November 30 this year, but we, the residents of Washington Township, should be observing it now.

For, of the 679 Fourth of July celebration fatalities over the nation, not one so far as we can learn affected a family of the township.

Closest thing to a holiday fatality in this area occurred early Sunday at Warm Springs, but the principals in the wreck resided elsewhere.

Truly we should give thanks that we escaped the sadness that today must be weighing heavily on too large a percentage of the people of the United States.

* * * *

Lest we be lulled into a sense of false security from the traffic hazards all about us, however, citizens of the township and more especially those in and near Niles should lend every effort to secure proper policing of the Niles Canyon Road intersection with the San Jose Highway at the southern exit from Niles.

Very properly, green and red stop and go signals have been suggested to relieve the menace of accidents. This may be the correct solution.

Pressure is being brought to bear, also, to secure stop signs at the intersection of First Street and the Oakland Highway for traffic heading west on the Nursery Road.

Another spot where traffic correction is needed in the way of a stop sign is directly at the California Nursery Company entrance on the county road.

We should all get the attention of our friends among county, state and automobile club officials in securing these traffic aids in the interest of safety.

* * * *

On last Saturday the Supreme Being saw fit to end the career of Chris Runckle. However, it was a Kind Providence that spared such a pioneering soul until the work he had chosen to champion was in the process of completion.

Forty years is a long time to labor, but Mr. Runckle apparently rejoiced in his championship of water rights and the residents of the township remain to enjoy the fruits of his endeavors.

* * * *

City residents who have a habit of "dumping" dogs and cats in country districts are a little worse than those who dump garbage along the highway. This week five residents of Niles complained that animals had been left at their homes. The Oakland Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals promised to pick up the unfortunate animals.

Art Belshaw was the Santa Claus for Niles youngsters on the Fourth of July. An exhibition of fireworks behind the school was staged by Belshaw and a good time was had by all. Fond parents were grateful.

BOYS FACE CHARGE OF SPEEDING

CENTERVILLE — A charge of reckless driving against John and Lawrence Gronley of Centerville and James Willis Payne of 2213 Broderick st., S. F., was reduced to speeding in the Centerville Justice Court with Judge J. A. Silva sitting for Judge Allen G. Norris. According to the Highway Patrol, residents had complained of disturbance caused by motorcycles which the boys were allegedly riding in a reckless manner. The defendants pleaded guilty to the speeding charge and will appear today for sentence.

The potential danger of speeding on the main street was pointed out by Deputy District Attorney Joe Schenone, who recommended the reduced charge.

MISSION SAN JOSE—Holiday traffic on the Mission San Jose road was held up Sunday morning and a mile of cars backed up north of the town as the procession celebrating the 50th anniversary of the I. D. E. S. Council No. 1, of Mission San Jose passed into St. Joseph's church for mass.

Oakland Man Killed In Crash Involving Three Automobiles

WARM SPRINGS — The holidays brought one death in Washington Township with a three car mixup at Warm Springs early Sunday morning. Edward Dias, 24, 2036 Rosedale avenue, Oakland, was killed when a car in which he was riding and driven by Clarence Mendonca, 22 of P. O. Box 81, Milpitas, crashed head on into one driven by Jack Maffley, 25, of Gray Eagle, Plumas County, in front of the I. D. E. S. Home south of Warm Springs.

The accident was said to have been caused when another car sideswiped Mendonca's car, causing it to crash into the Maffley car.

Maffley suffered a broken arm and seriously injured was Gladys Barnett, 22, of 1212 Paru Street, Alameda, riding with Maffley. Also in the car with them were Elaine Hoxie, 21 of 2956 Hillegass st., Berkeley and Edward Zollner, 24 of Gray Eagle.

The motor of the Maffley car was shoved under the dash board and the seat bent into a v by the impact of those on the back seat. The steering wheel was bent at right angles and the windshield shattered. Parts of the car were found in the orchard along the road near the accident which took place about 12:10 Sunday morning.

Niles Annexation Petition Rejected By Decoto District

DECOTO — Rejection of the petition of Niles residents to join the Decoto Sanitary District was voted at a meeting of Decoto Commissioners Wednesday night.

The opinion of the commission was based on the grounds that the new $100,000 sanitary system which is to be completed in September should be given a chance to be tried out before any extra service is added. The rejection is effective for five days.

Those voting against the annexation were William Hurst, Frank Thomas and Charles Brown. George Smith did not vote which relieved the chairman, J. P. Caldeira from voting. Caldeira has expressed a neutral attitude on the subject during the several months the matter has been under consideration.

The commission paid the final bill on the concentration plant which has cost approximately $17,000. The collection system which will cost about $48,000 is 50 percent complete.

The contractor in charge was ordered to put in more crossings across sewer pipe lines to aid traffic in Decoto.

Champion of Water Rights Passes Away as Township Project Nears Completion

NILES — Chris Runckle, secretary treasurer of the Alameda County Water District, and formerly publisher of the Township Register, passed away at his home in Berkeley last Saturday night.

Runckle's death came as a dramatic close to nearly 40 years of endeavor to protect the water rights of residents of Washington Township. On Thursday in the company of E. A. Richmond of Alvarado, representative of the water district, he turned the valve which released Hetch Hetchy water into the mains recently completed between Centerville and Irvington.

When mains are completed between Mission San Jose and Irvington, expected within the next two or three weeks, the circle of the township will be finished and a domestic supply of water will be assured for this district for all time.

Of even greater importance were the results of activities of the district in bringing about the semi annual release of water from the Calaveras Dam into Alameda Creek and the gravel beds of this section, insuring adequate protection for grazing lands and agriculture and forming a salt water barrier in the wells of the township.

Runckle is credited with being the originator of the idea of water districts in this state, according to W. D. Patterson, president of the Alameda County Water District. In 1901 while Runckle was teaching school at Decoto and publishing the local paper at Niles, he carried on a fight for 14 years to arouse the people as to the imperative necessity of protecting their water rights.

In 1913, he assisted in forming an informal organization which secured signatures of landowners who taxed themselves voluntarily a few cents per acre to carry on the litigation necessary to prevent restriction of flow of water from the Calaveras Dam into the Alameda Creek. In 1914 the State Legislature confirmed the action of the organization and the Alameda County Water District was formed, the first in California.

About two years ago a deal was made with the City of San Francisco whereby Hetch Hetchy water could be used in this section and since that time mains have been laid connecting all the communities of the township. Pipes have been laid from Alvarado to Newark, through Centerville to Irvington, through Decoto and Niles to Mission San Jose and work is now being completed on mains between Mission San Jose and Irvington. A 100,000 gallon reservoir was built at Mission San Jose and will insure an adequate supply for the Mission District.

Runckle had been in poor health for the past several weeks but forced himself to carry on, his friends say, until the completion of the work he had set out to do. After visiting the township on Thursday he became ill at his home and was unable to attend the regular meeting of the district board in Centerville on Saturday afternoon. He passed away Saturday night.

George Clark, attorney for the water district, will act as temporary secretay and will be assisted by Mrs. Runckle until a permanent secretary is appointed.

Born in Dutch Flat, Runckle became a school teacher at the age of 18 Later, he was elected to the Placer County Board of Education. During his 18 years of teaching in Placer County he published the Colfax Sentinel. He was also secretary of the Placer County Miners' Association. During the World War he was secretary of Warden Court Smith, then warden of Folsom Prison. Following this he was a deputy United States marshal in the San Francisco office.

In 1894 he was married to Sophie E. Cadwallader, who had been one of his pupils at Dutch Flat. He is survived by three children, Christian H. Runckle, Martha Achenback and Louis Polos, the latter a prominent figure in Bay cities musical circles.

He is also survived by the following grandchildren: David and Thalia Polos, Philip and Jonathan Runckle. He was the brother of Mrs. Louise Smart, Dr. G. H. Runckle, John A. and Fred C. Runckle and Mrs Annie Sotffels.

Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon from the Chapel of the Oaks, Oakland Mortuary on Telegraph avenue.

VACATIONISTS ARE ADVISED OF BAN ON SHELL FISH

Supplementing the quarantine by the State Department of Health on mussels, which was made effective May 31, 1939, that department has now issued an order quarantining all clams and oysters from the ocean shores of Santa Cruz and Monterey counties.

Because of the widespread outbreak of poisoning which occurred 10 days ago, it is important that all persons planning vacations should be aware of the fact that there should be no "taking, sale or offering for sale, of clams, oysters and mussels" in the district specified. A recent outbreak due to poisoned mussels was responsible for the death of six persons and the serious illness of about two dozen others.

This department wishes to warn all vacationists against this danger.

THEME SONG
ALAMEDA COUNTY FAIR

(Sung to the tune of "Down by the Old Mill Stream).

"Let's all go down to town—
While the gang's all around.
Everyone will be there, at the County Fair.
There'll be Sue and Sal, every boy with his gal.
You'll see more faces at all those races
At the County Fair.
And then we'll roll out the barrel
And have a barrel of fun;
We'll have a swell time, even before it's begun.
And don't forget the date, so you won't be late.
There'll be Fiesta, there'll be no resta
At the County Fair"!

A PERSONAL MATTER?

PERSONAL: The party who last night sped away after crashing into a car on the highway north of town might be interested in knowing that the driver is being buried today. He might also like to know that his victim suffered such terrible pain, he could not be moved and died in the dirt at the side of the road. The widow and three children will attend the funeral.

That "personal" does not appear in today's columns. Yet, with varying details, it might well be run each of the 50,000 times that highway accidents strike each year in California. A "personal" matter! Have you stopped to think of sudden death on the highways as it affects you?

Suppose you sit down to dinner tonight with 10 of your friends. Is it a personal matter to know that one of you will be killed or injured in an automobile accident within 10 years—unless the "war" ends? Suppose you have a family of three children. Is it a personal matter to know that one of those three children will be killed or injured on the highway—unless you make it a "personal" matter to halt the scourge of motor-mania?

Fortunately you and I can do something about death on the highways. The marked decline in accidents involving motor transport units as compared with other vehicles proves that courteous, careful and intelligent driving will save lives. Death rides with the drunken, the careless and the foolish. Life rides with the driver who knows himself, his car and his road.

A personal matter? Your friends, your family, even yourself may know the tragedy and pain of motor homicide. If you die an accidental death, there's one chance in three that you yourself will some day know the horror of clashing steel and smashing glass, of mangled flesh and broken bones, of sudden death on the open road. Is that a personal matter?

Government Agency Assists Graduates To Find Occupation

HAYWARD — Jobs for young graduates are occupying much of the thought and attention of the Hayward office of the California State Employment Service, according to Walter Gamman, manager.

This year 139 young persons graduated from Washington Union high school and a large portion of this number began their search for jobs. The Junior Division of the Hayward state employment office has cleared its decks for action and is all set to take the crop of young workers in hand, give them expert occupational advice, make suggestions as to where to look for work, and solicit openings for them from employers.

This year's graduates have among them many who are alert and have excellent preliminary training, Gamman, who has personally interviewed a large number of them for the purpose of placing them in jobs, said. A large variety of tastes and abilities are represented and employers in search of beginners will be able to find suitable material, no matter what his particular requirements may be.

Gamman advised all employers who may be interested in hiring Juniors to refer their orders to his office to assist in the better organization of the unemployment situation in this community.
